WEEKLY COVERAGE

One ATP code per week

Week	ATP code	What must be covered
Week 1	HHTT	Learners do listening comprehension from the novel and read an extract aloud. Teach its features and conventions and how textual, punctuation and graphic cues unlock unfamiliar words. Introduce character, plot and setting.
Week 2	47AR	Learners apply comprehension strategies: purpose and target group, inference, fact against opinion and implied meaning. Learners write a summary of one chapter and a descriptive essay on the novel, following the writing process.
Week 3	XXMH	Learners listen to a dialogue on a social issue and take notes. Teach language and power, tone and mood. Learners examine a recorded speech on a social issue for its key features, language use, format and role players.
Week 4	NLF9	Teach poetry: figures of speech, rhyme, rhythm, stanzas, typography, figurative meaning, mood and theme. Learners write a dialogue with correct format, order and cohesion. Task 1 Oral (reading aloud, 20 marks) is completed.
Week 5	DRNQ	Learners do listening comprehension on a non-fictional text such as a newspaper article, then hold a group or panel discussion explaining the author's point of view with appropriate language, style and register.
Week 6	4XAK	Learners read a newspaper article for comprehension, distinguishing fact from opinion and summarising. Introduce folktales. Learners write a review of the article with correct format, paragraph conventions, style and register.
Week 7	MQCQ	Learners watch an advertisement and discuss tone, pacing, emotive and manipulative language, font size, body language and the AIDA principles, then present orally on it, recording main and supporting ideas in notes.
Week 8	JK7Y	Learners read a visual or multimedia text such as an advertisement or poster, inferring meaning and noting how visuals strengthen the message, then design one. Task 4: Writing, transactional, 10 marks, before the June test.
Week 9	JYPJ	Task 5: June controlled test, Response to Texts (60 marks): literary or non-literary text, visual text, summary, and language structures and conventions. Learners write the test as one sitting across weeks 9 and 10.
Week 10	EKDE	Learners complete the June controlled test (Task 5, Response to Texts, 60 marks) and consolidate the term's reading, writing and language structures and conventions work, as the ATP gives it.
