Re: [Subject of the letter]

Dear [Recipient name],

[Start your letter here. Page one carries the full Kenzo Nail Bar header with the address, phone number and email, so it is the page the reader sees first.]

[Keep typing. When the text runs past this page, Word carries it onto a continuation page with the slim header and page number, like the next page.]

[Replace these bracketed notes with your own text.]

[Closing page. Finish the letter here. This page has the signature block and a footer that repeats the contact details, so the reader has them at the end of the letter.]

Kind regards,

[Your name]
